1 The 'Germanische Lloyd' (GL) has granted the VI-
2 BROTIP data collector the 'Type Approval Certifi-
3 cate'. This proves the 'marine suitability' of 4 VIBROTIP which can now be used to monitor machines
5 on merchant ships.

6 VIBROTIP measures, evaluates and displays bearing
7 condition, vibration severity, liquid and surface
8 temperature, cavitation and machine RPM - all in 9 one handy instrument with its own built-in sen-
10 sors. VIBROTIP stores all these data at the touch
11 of a key and transfers them to a PC for long-term
12 storage, trend analysis, and chart plotting: OMNI-
13 TREND software provides quick and confident analy-
14 sis of trouble spots. It also programs measurement
15 routes into the VIBROTIP with unprecedented ease
16 to streamline data collection at regular inter-
17 vals.
